The Problem

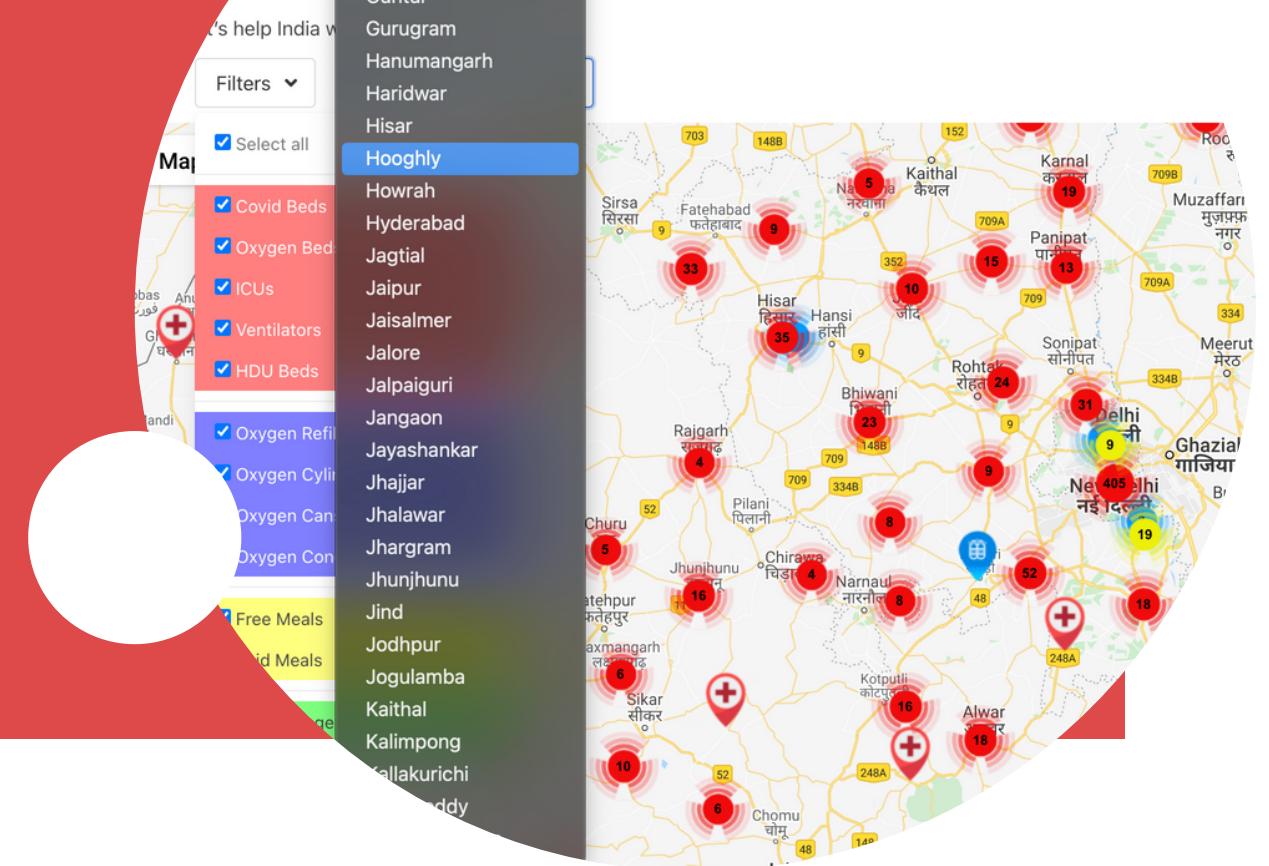

The grim situation of the COVID19 pandemic in India led to unprecedented and unanticipated challenges requiring collective action and support from all. A group of us, away from home, saw family members and friends suffering for hospital beds, and oxygen - basic human rights. While there were google sheets and excellent volunteer groups collecting live resources, no one was able to find a resource near where they were, in an easy to understand fashion (especially when there is panic), and quickly take action.

The Solution

A consolidated repository of covid related resources which can quickly be accessed on a graphical user interface. We humans are visual creatures. Mapping resources out would help users to prioritize the available resources based on location & proximity thereby significantly saving time in situations where hours or minutes decide survival.

About CowinMap

Who is CowinMap?

Cowinmap started in the midst of the second wave in India. In less than a month(May 31st)

Cowinmap is bolstered by a group of 70 (students & professionals) from across the world, has about 6000 unique visitors of the website per week, 800 instagram followers and serves 12 states and 240 districts in India.

We map out the following resources:

- Hospital beds
- O2 suppliers
- Covid meals
- Triage centers/Covid war rooms

The hospital information being refreshed every 3 hours and O2 suppliers called and verified by our volunteers, everyday.
